PDA Consensus Candidate for the Lok Sabha election, Dr. Chumben Murry said that peace is a prerequisite for development, and Nagaland has continued to prosper in relative peace and tranquility under the present government. In his appeal to the electorate ahead of the polls for the lone Parliamentary seat, Murry emphasized that unity is crucial for peace, exemplified by the formation of a government without opposition, consisting of all 60 MLAs, which demonstrated strength and unity. Saying that the next five years are going to be crucial for Nagaland, he pointed out that the Lok Sabha election has arrived, prompting the people of the state to reflect on the past five years and contemplate the prospects for another term. He emphasized that the fruits of the political field are weighed in terms of peace, development, and progress of society. Dr. Murry called upon the electorate from the state to move forward in unity, embracing the promise of prosperity and progress that lies ahead. He also vowed to be the voice of the people of Nagaland in the Indian Parliament with utmost dedication on any issues confronting the people of the state.
